Aylsham Roman Project Newsletter

Vol 9 Issue 1 2024

Another year gone and this is volume 9 of our newsletters! Read on to find out what's been happening and what's on this month.

*****

"Had a great time"

"Couldn't attend but meant a great deal to read illustrated daily experts"

"Instruction and advice by Britannia Archaeology was great"

"Amazing what was found"

"Different to previous years but still great great to be involved"

"Enjoyed volunteering, great atmosphere"

"Everyone enjoyed excellent weather, wonderful camaraderie, joy of learning and being outdoors"

Some of the comments received from the feedback of our August Dig. Yes, it was different but there was excitement at finds and just being back on the field again. Huge thanks to Alice who ran things and Andy for such careful work excavating the third Roman pottery kiln to be found.

Aylsham Christmas

A lot is happening over the next couple of weeks. We are taking part in the Tree Festival this year so be sure to visit the church during the Festival period, November 29th - December 3rd. It always looks lovely. Check out this poster for full details.

We will also have a stall in the church on Saturday 30th November during the coffee morning 10am - 12noon. Do come along, all our goodies will be on sale, and you can enjoy a cuppa and the trees while you are there.

If you enjoy music, then this is for you too, also raising funds for the Tree Festival.

Let's hope the weather is a lot better than it is at the moment - take care everyone, stay warm, stay safe.
