

The ARP ACTA

Aylsham Roman Project Newsletter

Vol 9 Issue 3 2025

Happy New Year to you all

What a windy end to the year and a chilly start to this one. It can only get better!

Storm Damage

Our second hand lightweight marquee has served us well but Storm Darragh finally did for it:)

It is a very sad sight on the field at the moment. We put it up as soon as we had it a few years ago and then moved it next to our portacabin.

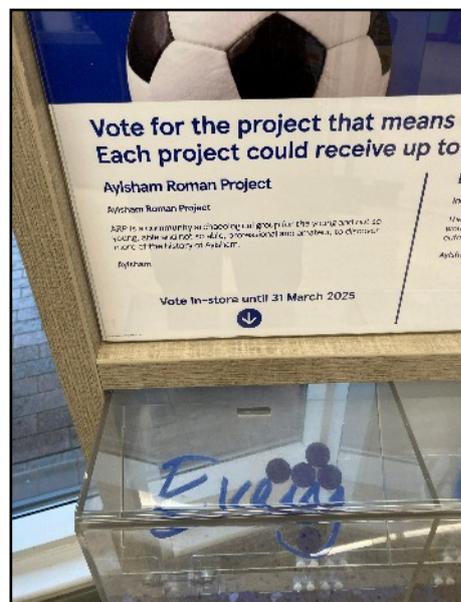

Sadly the gusts were too strong, the roof is shredded and there are many bent poles. Thanks to Julie B who brought it to us, it has served us well.

If you know of anybody who has a marquee they need to get rid off, about 6 x 4, do let us know, we would be interested in buying. Having a cover over our outdoor working area is very useful, keeps us dry and, relatively, wind free!

Once the weather warms, our first task on the Tuesday mornings will be to dismantle it and sort the whole area out.

An email will go out to all Friends once we start our regular Tuesdays get together.

Tesco Blue Tokens

We have been very lucky and been accepted by Tesco once again.

We have three months to earn as much as we can, either £500, £1000 or £1500, depending on how many tokens we manage to accumulate.

If you can, and you shop in Tesco, please pick up a blue token and drop it into our box which is on the left. Please share with friends, the more we collect, the more we will receive!

We get some lovely comments through the year and this starts 2025 off so well.

"My mum has been enjoying Aylsham Roman Project for years now. It gets her out of the house and is great for her interest in archaeology."

Makes it all worthwhile